Title:

How to Map the G-drive

Summary/ Intro:

This guide will explain how to map the network drive that is called G-drive
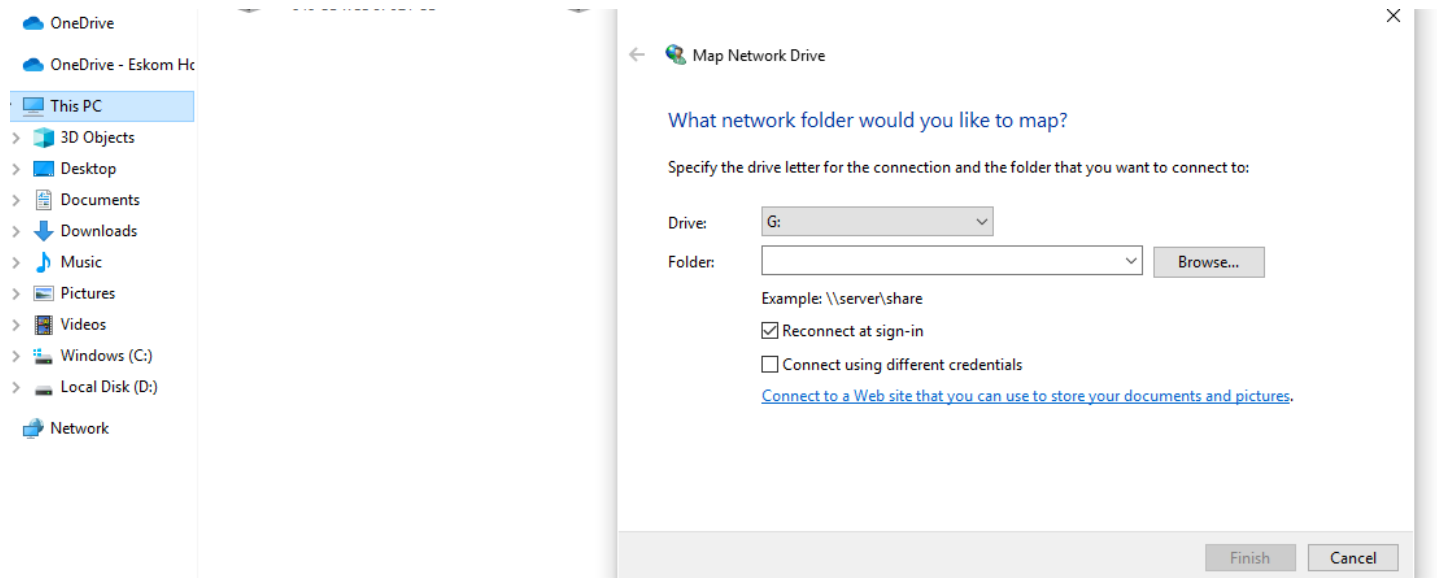

Steps:

Step 1:
Open File explorer…Step

On the "This PC" you right click then on Map Network Drive option and click on it...

Step 3:

Click the drop down on the drive and select drive D, Then on the folder you will put the path "\\MAPFNP01\UserG02\data then after you click finished...

Conclusion (Optional):

You can also click on browse to check and see the folders that you will be using if they can appear before clicking finished, so that you can access the right folders on the network drive.

References (Optional):

For Matla user's they can find it on: matlacommunication@eskom.co.za

Created by:

Sfiso Sgudla – FSE Matla Power Station.